Concerning Daniel GOODWIN, son of Daniel and Margaret (SPENCER) GOODWIN; did he have two wives? On p. 10 of Goodwins of Kittery, Maine by John S. GOODWIN, it lists him as marrying Ann THOMPSON, d/o Miles THOMPSON, 17 Oct. 1682, and then before 1693, marrying 2nd Amy ----. Four children listed for the first marriage and seven for second. In Stackpole's Old Kittery and Her Families he is only assigned one wife Amy, d/o Miles and Ann Thompson, with the same list of children as in the first mentioned book. Can anyone solve this mystery?

OBITUARIES

York County Coast Star, Kennebunk. Me. Wednesday, 31 March 1982

SOUTH BERWICK-Craig A. HOLMES, 66, of 10 Sewall Road died March 23 at his home.

He was born in Somersworth, N.H., a son of Ralph Wentworth and Mildred Hodson Holmes.

Mr. Holmes came here 46 years ago, and was employed by Central Maine Power Co. for more than 30 years. He retired in 1976.

He was a member of the First Parish Federated Church of South Berwick, the Masons, Historical Preservation Committee and New Hampshire Sons of the American Revolution.

He was a past officer of the South Berwick Rotary Club and a founder and officer of the Old Berwick Historical Society. He was a town councilor here for several years and a trustee of the South Berwick Sewer District for many years.

Surviving are his wife, Esther I. Hillman Holmes, a son, Carleton, and a daughter, Rachel Pirtle, all of South Berwick; two brothers, Chester A. Holmes of Taunton, Mass., and Ralph M. Holmes of South Berwick; two sisters, Eleanor D. Perkins of Somersworth and Mabel E. Donneson of Whittier, Calif., and four grandchildren.

[In the same paper, on the editorial page was a fine tribute to him:]

DEEPLY MISSED

To the Editor:

South Berwick has lost a fine and compassionate citizen when Craig Holmes died last Tuesday at his home. I came to know Craig only during his last years, but had the good fortune to work with him closely on two civic projects. On numerous trips with him in and around South Berwick, the village he loved so well, I discovered that he was acquainted and friendly with almost everyone in town. He will certainly be remembered for his fine sense of humor, easy-going manner, and willingness to spend countless unpaid hours serving in his community through municipal offices and local organizations. His interest in and knowledge of South Berwick's history was probably matchless, and I personally owe him a great debt of gratitude for all his help to me in conducting a survey of the town's older buildings. Our work eventually culminated in the creation of a local historic district with guidelines to control future exterior alterations in the "Square". Ironically, on the day that he died, a second civic project with which Craig had helped greatly was finally completed; a public access study for the Salmon Falls River. Craig is largely responsible for these and many other public service efforts in South Berwick. He will be deeply missed.

Randall Arendt

Our deepest sympathy goes to the family of Craig. Janet Hooper, one of our members, is related to his wife and I'm sure that many of us who have early South Berwick ancestry are related to them both on various lines.

Not much can be added to the tribute by Mr. Arendt except to say that we were very appreciative of the help that Craig gave our organization. At our first reunion he stayed downstairs to receive late comers while we started with the meeting up in the church. At the 2nd reunion he made available the Counting House which serves as headquarters of the Old Berwick Historical Society when we discovered two days before the meeting that the Federated Church would not be open to us due to an error in scheduling..

Foster's Dally Democrat, Dover, N.H. 20 Mar. 1982:

FREDERICK GOODWIN

DOVER, N.H.-Frederick P. GOODWIN, 69, of 234 Central Ave., died Friday morning, 19 March 1982, at the Wentworth-Douglass Hospital.

He was born in South Berwick, Maine, 24 April 1912, the son of Ralph and Catherine (Daley) Goodwin. He was a long-time resident of Dover, N.H. a former employee of the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard, a veteran of the U.S. Army during World War II, and a member of St. Joseph's Church.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Pauline McKone, Dover; and one brother, Albert GOODWIN of Dover; several nieces and nephews; grand nieces and grand nephews and cousins.

A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated March 22nd in St. Joseph's Church and entombment at St. Mary's Cemetery for burial in the spring.

Arrangements were handled by McCooley-Dion Funeral Home, 114 Locust St.

MY GREAT GRANDMOTHER WAS A CARD
By Alice B. Goodwin Sharp

This is not to infer that she was very witty or the life of the party, although she may have been for all I know. She was Eliza Jane CARD born 15 Feb. 1819 at Dover, N.H. the daughter of Archelaus CARD and his wife, Hannah MACE. When she was 19 she married Theodore LORD, son of Jotham and Betsey (FURBISH) LORD who lived in Eliot, Me. There were four children of their union: James H. Lord born 10 Aug. 1839, died 22 June 1903; William H. Lord b. 19 Sept. 1840, md. Adelaide (Addle) BROOKS; Mary Abigail (Abbie) Lord who was my paternal grandmother, b. 10 Nov. 1842, and md. Daniel GOODWIN 16 Sept. 1861, d. 23 April 1923, and George W. Lord b. 11 May 1845. All the children born in Dover. When their youngest child was less than two Theodore died.

On 14 Oct. 1849 she married Abraham BROOKS of Eliot, son of Daniel and Molly (SPINNEY) BROOKS. They also had four children, three boys and one girl. Daniel, b. 17 Sept. 1885, md. Emma I. FERNALD 22 Dec. 1875; Harriet, b. 25 Sept. 1852 (called Aunt Hattie BROOKS by family) never married; Andrew, b. 1854, md. Alice A. WELCH 8 Dec. 1878, and d. 13 Aug. 1898; Elbridge b. 1859, md. Ida M. FERNALD 25 Jan 1883. All born in Eliot, Me. Daniel BROOKS d. 11 Nov. 1909 and his sister, Harriet 4 Aug. 1930. Abraham was a seafaring man.

Elisa Jane's grandfather was Capt. Thomas CARD who had a brickyard at Dover Point on what was then called Card's Cove. The longevity of this Card family is rather remarkable; he died at the age of 100! Four of his paternal aunts were: Apphia (Affie) b. 11 Sept. 1786 on Seavey's Island (now part of Portsmouth Naval Shipyard) d. 4 Oct. 1878 at age 92; Sally b. 26 Nov. 1778 at New Castle, N.H. d. 20 Aug. 1871 at age 93; (both these women md. into the Hayes family of Milton); Annie CARD, b. 25 Sept. 1790 md. James Fernald and d. 11 July 1877 aged 100; Eunice CARD b. 6 Nov. 1792, md. Daniel M. PLUMMER 15 Oct. 1820 (Milton town rec.) d. 12 April 1870 aged 77. There is a picture of these four sisters seated at a table in the genealogy John Hayes of Dover, NH by K. Richmond.

The father of Capt. Thomas CARD was Thomas CARD b. 20 April 1746 d. at sea in a storm off Ipswich in either the Dove or Robin - these ships were together. His widow, Abigail Neal, to whom he had md. 15 Nov. 1768 spent her last days in the home of her daughter, Sally, who md. Ichabod HAYES. This house has been restored and can still be seen in Milton. She is buried in the HATES cemetery in Milton. The following receipt was found in the papers of Ichabod HAYES:

"Received of Ichabod Hayes two dollars and fifty cents in full for coffin maid for Widow Card.

Benj. Gerrish Milton 11 Sept. 1827"

She left to her namesake Abigail, daughter of Sally, the 14 yards of silk fringe from the canopy bed said to have been given by King George II to Capt. Walter NEAL who was appointed Governor of Mason's Province in 1630. Pieces of this fringe are still in the possession of the family. (1935).

Quotes above are from John Hayes of Dover. N.H. Vol. 1.

Thomas was lost at sea 7 Oct. 1805 when their youngest of 11 children, Apphia, was nearly 9 years old.

A few years ago Deborah Cole BYRON was very helpful in searching out the ancestry of the Card lineage and the following is the way we think the line goes on back from the Thomas who was lost at sea:

1. John CARD md. Elizabeth TREFETHEN d/o Foster TREFETHEN and Martha PAINE
2. John CARD b. 15 Oct. 1701 at Gloucester, Mass. md. Ann RANDALL d/o Edward, fisherman, at New Castle, N.H.
3. William CARD b. 1662 md. Hannah ELLERY
4. John CARD.

Notes regarding the naming of the "Houses" in Newton High Schools.

Newton South High School, GOODWIN HOUSE, was named to honor the memory of Edwin J. Goodwin, principal of Newton High School from 1888 to 1897, under whose leadership Newton began to gain a strong national reputation in the field of education. (His name in the family records is Edward and the date 1887 is no doubt correct.)

ANSWER TO QUERY #IV-19

In or about 1900 my father (Millard GOODWIN) bought the KNOWLTON place on Goodwin Rd. in Eliot. It consisted of land of about 10 acres on the corner of Goodwin and Frost Hill Road. The buildings were a house, barn and woodshed. At the top of the hill and on the corner of roads just mentioned was the carriage shop of Nathaniel KNOWLTON. My father sold the carriage shop and a small piece of land to my brother Harry.

It is possible that the former owner is the KNOWLTON to whom you referred but I don't know if he ever lived near Raitt's Hill. There are Knowltons buried in the back left corner of that property which was our old home while we were growing up.

Thanks to Ralph GOODWIN, Mass. for this interesting reminiscence.

NOTES ON THE THOMAS SPENCER FAMILY contributed by Helen Stager

Thomas was sent as a 'servant' by Capt. Mason, probably to look after Mason's patent. He may have come with the Chadbourne family since he married Patience Chadbourne. Stackpole calls him the first permanent settler in Maine. The Company on the Piscatagua did not remain long in existence, and in the division of property, 6 Dec. 1633 Newichawannock fell to Mason, to whom Gorges gave a deed on 17 Dec. 1635. The deed covered a strip of land three miles broad and fifteen miles long, reaching from one fourth mile below Great Works River into the present town of Lebanon. Capt. John Mason died Dec. 1635 and the settlers in Newichawannock seem not to have regarded the just claims of his heirs. After the death of Mason there was no one to pay these 'servants' wages nor to transport them back to England. There is evidence they were left destitute of means of support. There were some thirty families. They did the only thing possible; they seized the land and property of Mason, and thus each became the lord of his own manor. The town of Kittery subsequently confirmed the claims of those who had long possessed and cultivated the lands. Humphrey Chadbourne and Thomas Spencer took deeds from "Sagamore" Rowles in 1643. Mason's heirs tried to recover their property. They finally sold their claims to Mr. Allen who in 1690 had a test action of trespass and ejection brought against Humphrey Spencer, grandson of Thomas in a court held in Wells in 1704. The Massachusetts Courts declared for Spencer. (B)

Thomas Spencer deposed August 1676 that he had lived in this country forty-six years; "Old father Spencer was sent over as a servant by Capt. John Mason." He probably came from Winchcombe, County Gloucester, home of the Chadbournes, where one Thomas Spencer bought a messuage in 1624. He was sued for debt by William Seadlock in Saco Court 7 Feb. 1636/7, Mr. John Treworgye, bondsman. In 1647 he and John Withers were called to account for rates and dues collected. He was disenfranchised in 1659 for entertaining Quakers. In 1661, he and Daniel Goodwin were accused of trading with Indians, but no grounds appeared. In 1662 Barefoot got a judgment against him for debt, which was discharged in 1663 by Humphrey Chadbourne on behalf of the son, William. He was on the Coroner's Jury in 1647; grand jury 1651, 1653 and 1656, jury 1653; Tax licenses 1659, 1680. Both he and his wife were absent from meeting 1663, 1675, he in 1665. His widow Patience was licensed in 1682 (son Moses bondsman) to keep an inn. Division of his estate was to three sons, two sons-in-law (Joy, Chick). Daniel Goodwin was given ten shillings as a token of remembrance. (A)

Thomas Spencer is listed as receiving a small legacy from Barnabas Danfell (kinsman).(D) Whether this is the same Thomas is not known.

A John Spencer who came on the "Mary and John" in 1633-34 had a brother Thomas. John returned to England but bequeathed his property in this country to Thomas' children, (D) whether this is the same Thomas I do not know.
